

Washington Street Study

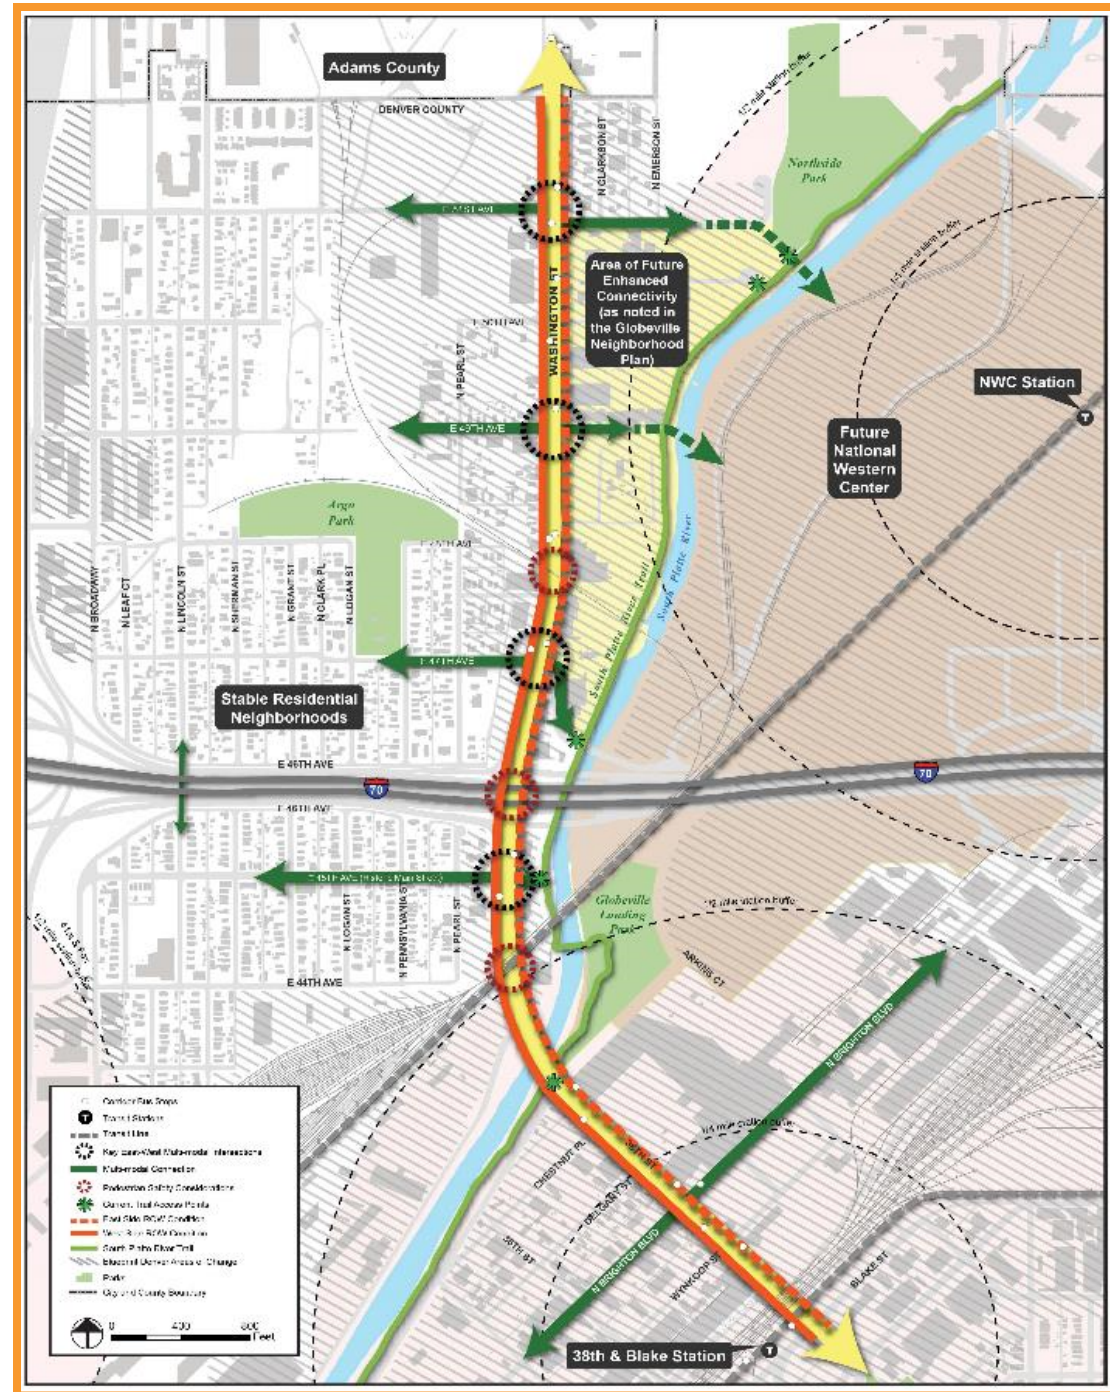

National Western
Center Citizens
Advisory Committee

PROJECT UPDATE

October 27, 2016

Agenda

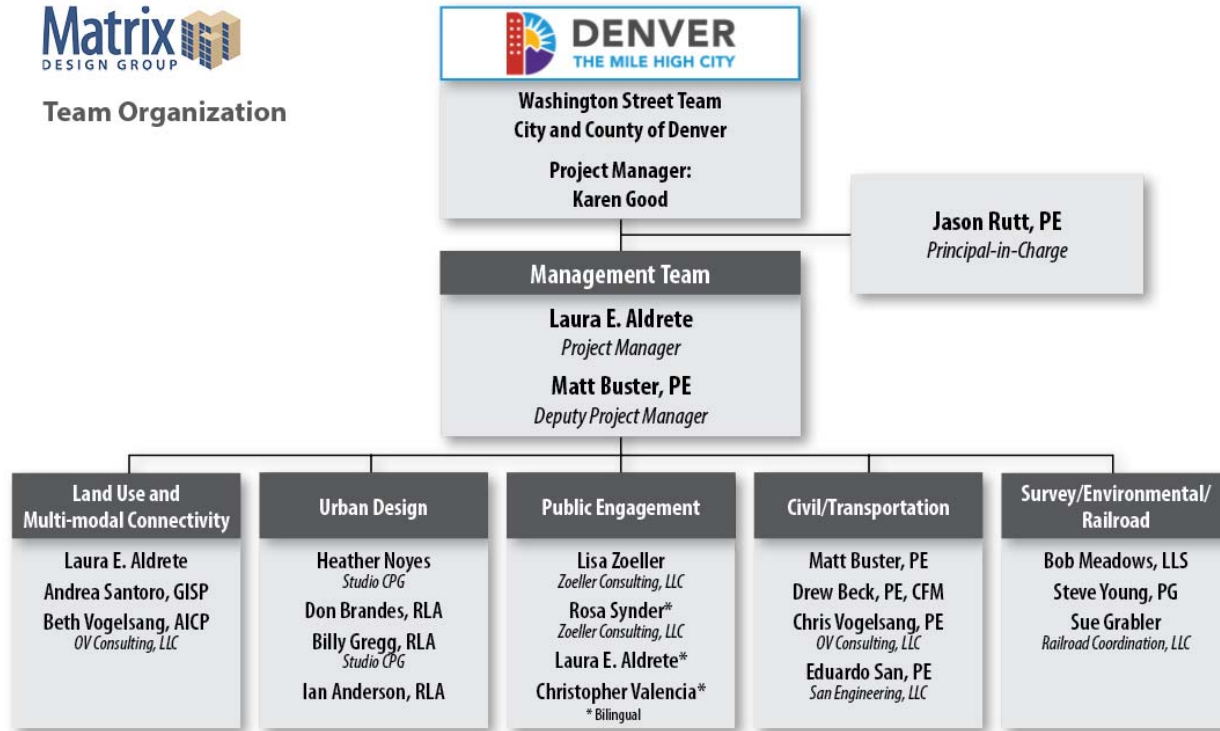

- Study area
- Consultant team
- Why a study
- Build on past and current studies
- Coordinating projects
- Scope elements
- Scope implementation
- Process
- Community Engagement
- Schedule

Consultant Team

Team Organization

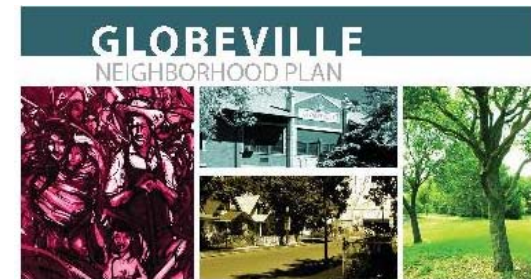

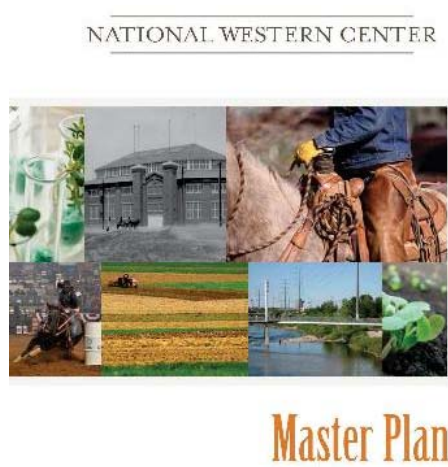

Why a Study?

- Identified in the Globeville Neighborhood Plan as a Transformative Project
- Address the changing land uses and the future vision for the corridor as a mixed use street. Washington Street has the opportunity to establish a neighborhood identity and catalyze redevelopment and reinvestment in the area.
- Some of those changes include:
 - New entrance to the National Western Center
 - A connection to I-70 and Brighton Boulevard and the 38th & Blake Station
 - Link to Adams County
 - A main street to the Globeville Neighborhood
- Design and technical elements in realizing the vision for improvements

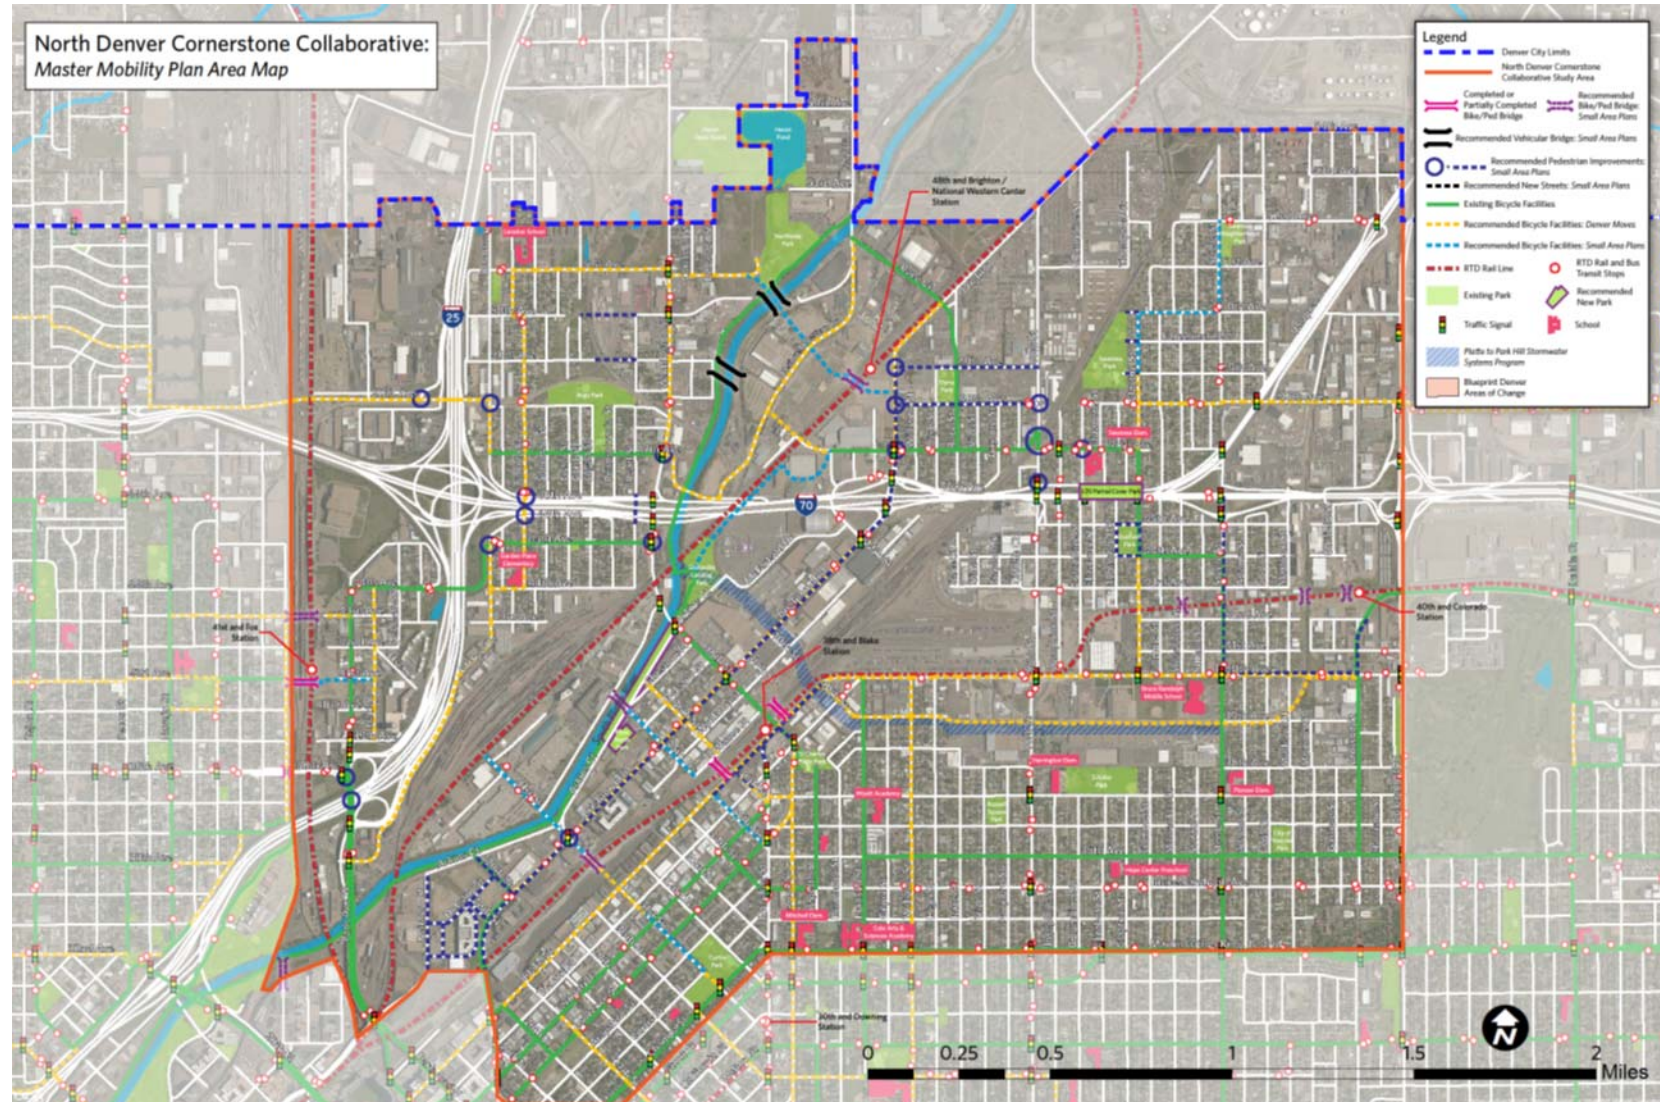

Build on Past and Current Studies

Adopted December 1, 2014

Coordinating Projects

Scope Elements

- General multimodal connectivity assessment along and across the corridor including:
 - Bicycle
 - Pedestrian
 - Transit
 - Vehicular
 - Access & Parking
- South Platte River access and connectivity
- Typical corridor cross section study and intersection designs for connectivity
- Preliminary assessment of storm drainage and water quality needs and opportunities
- Rough Order of Magnitude Cost Estimate

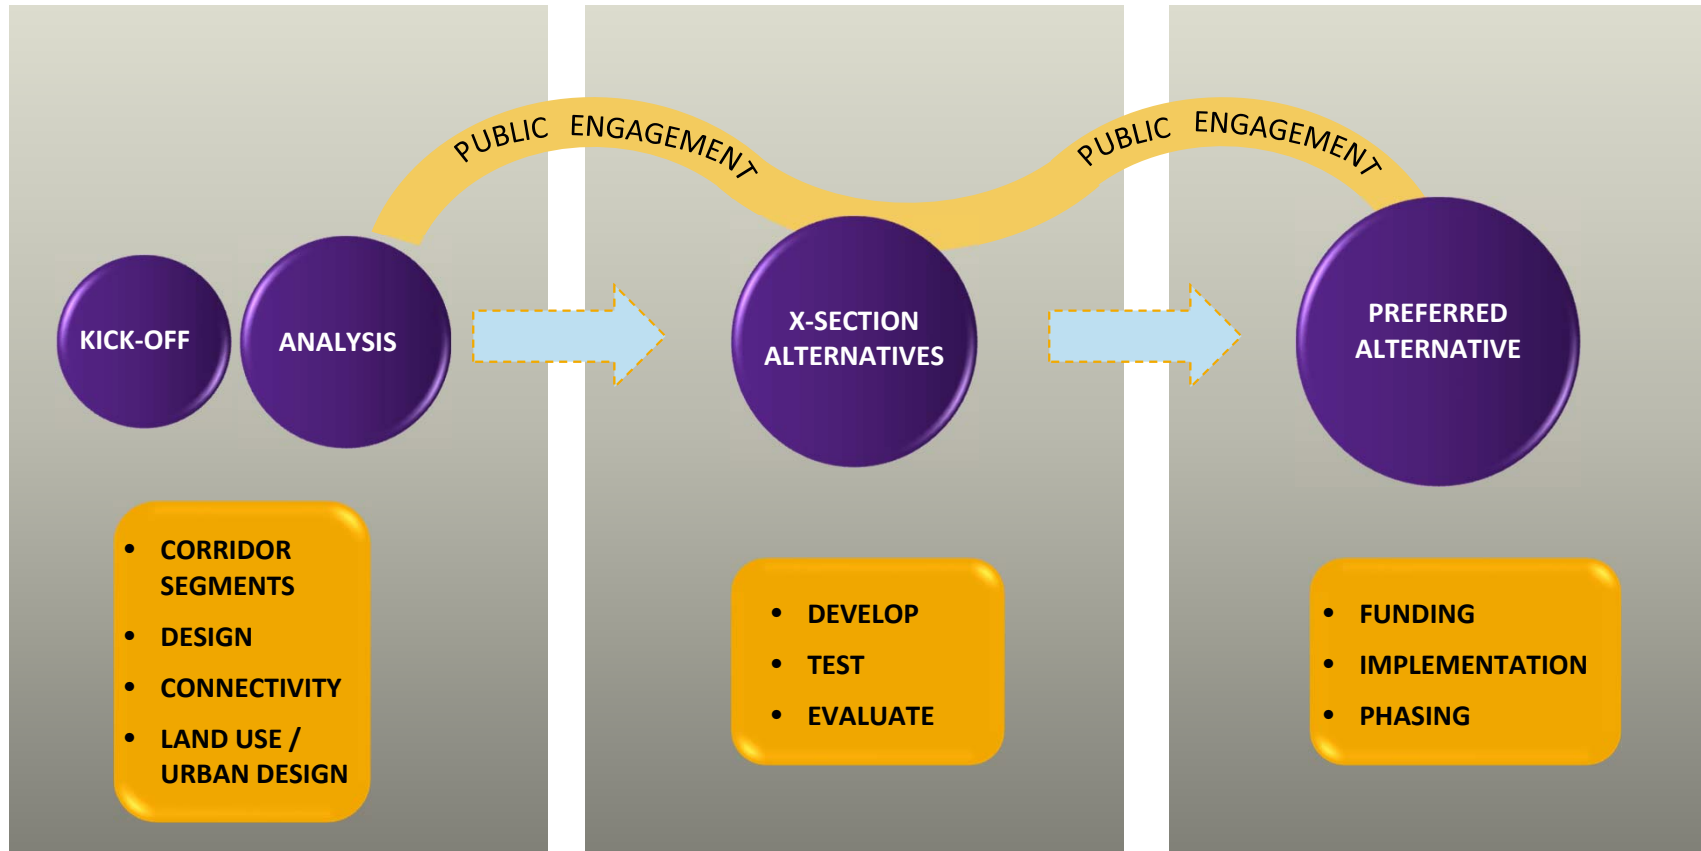

Scope Implementation

- Define character zones along Washington Street
- Prepare conceptual design alternatives
- Create urban design principles and tools to strengthen the community for public and private benefit along the corridor
- Engage the Community
- Develop Selection criteria for Preferred Alternative
- Identify early action projects for implementation

Process

CONCEPT TO IMPLEMENTATION

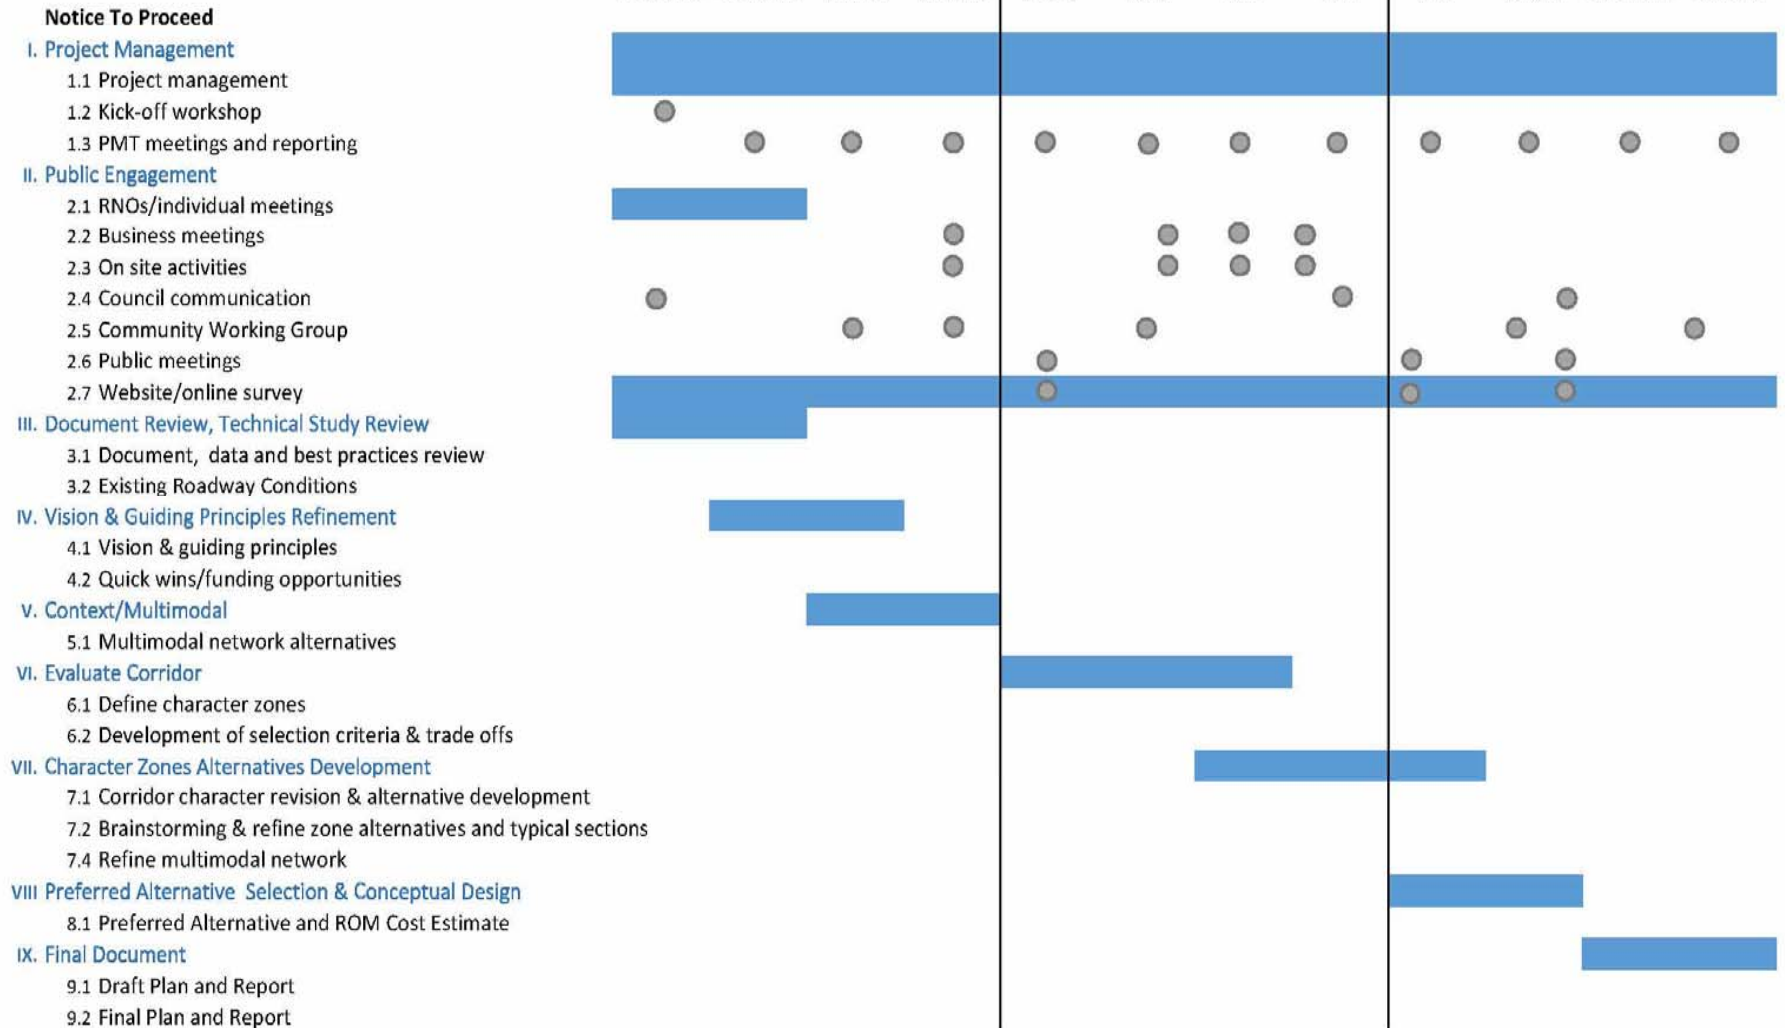

Community Engagement

- Trust building and inclusiveness
- Multiple tiers of public input
 - RNOs & Individual meetings
 - Business meetings
 - On-site activities
 - Council communication
 - Community Working Group
 - Public Meetings
 - Website & online surveys

Schedule

Thank You

Karen Good, AICP
Karen.good@denvergov.org