Construction continues at the Stockyards Event Center with the recent installation of storefront glass. Grading has begun on the west plaza in addition to the east side of building (bison area).

Progress continues inside of the Stockyards Event Center with paint, elevator and door installation.

The majority of utilities along Bettie Cram Drive are complete, but a few final utility connections are underway seen here with the large trench. Preparations are underway for asphalt paving.

The new National Western Drive is taking shape. Crews are preparing to transition from the old Delgany Interceptor to the new pipes.

Sitework continues on the southern end of campus with the construction of Pond H – a permanent storm water detention pond.
